5. Read the passage and write true (T) or false (F).

Volunteering is fun, but it's also a little more complicated( 复杂的 ) than just showing up. Here's some advice on how to make the most of your volunteer work:

Be selfless( 无私的 ). "Selfless" is the opposites of "selfish". Don't think about what you can do to help yourself. Think about what you can do to help others.

Be well-trained. Know what you're doing as a volunteer. If you need some time to learn your job, take that time. If you need training or you need someone to show you what you're supposed to do, speak up. If you're good at your job, it will be much easier to help others.

Be friendly. Treat others like friends, and they'll do the same for you. Many people who volunteer meet new people with whom they want to stay friends. You might just meet someone who becomes a buddy( 好朋友 ) for the rest of your life.

- a. Selfless people always think about what they can do to help others. (     )
- b. Other people will treat you like friends if you treat them like friends. (     )
- c. The writer gives us four pieces of advice on how to be a good volunteer. (     )

4. Cloze test.

Advertising used to give useful information about the products available to buy. But what a advertising does now is far more than giving news about the products and services. Today's advertisements, or ads, try to get people to buy certain brands. b of advertising are so skillful that they can sometimes persuade us to c a certain kind of clothing, eat a special kind of cereal, or see a particular movie. We might never even want a product if we did not see or hear d for it.

For example, you e do not need the newest cereal in the supermarket. There are probably many cereal brands on your f shelves. You may not have space on the shelf for another. But if you see ads about a new cereal that looks tasty and comes with a free prize in the box, you may want to g it.

Advertising must get attention. To be effective, it must be exciting, interesting, or provide some h. The secret of writing good advertising copy is to highlight a great i as well as the good quality of a product, making it a bargain. The idea is what the ad is really selling. One example is an ad that says eating cereal will make a person do well in sports. That cereal brand may sell j if people think it offers strength and energy.

5. Read the passage and choose the correct answers.

The original Dream Team, the U.S. basketball team that won the gold medal at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, was a phenomenon( 现象 ) on and off the court. It mattered not that it defeated its other eight teams by an average of 44 points. What was important was that the Dream Team, the first U.S. Olympic team including NBA stars, gave fans a glimpse of NBA all over the world.

Since 1992, basketball has developed in popularity around the globe, rising to a place where it truly challenges( 挑战 ) football as the world's most popular sport. Much of that is due to the influence of the Dream Team, which attracted fans and followers wherever it went.

"It was," said Coach Chuck Daly, "like Elvis and the Beatles put together. Travelling with the Dream Team was like travelling with 12 rock stars." The team includes three of the game's all-time greats: Michael Jordan, Magic Johnson and Larry Bird and seven NBA All-Stars. Opponents( 对手 ) didn't have a chance, but they didn't care. One player, while trying to guard ( 防守 ) Magic Johnson, was seen waving to his teammate on the bench to take a picture of them together.

- a. How many teams did the Dream Team defeat at the 1992 Olympics?
A. 8 teams.                      B. 44 teams.                      C. 12 teams.
- b. Why did the basketball develop so fast?
A. Because of the challenge of football.
B. Because of the influence of the Dream Team.
C. Because of the influence of rock stars.
- c. How many players was the Dream Team made up of?
A. 12.                      B. 10.                      C. 7.
- d. Why did one player ask his teammate to take a picture while playing on the court?
A. Because he wanted to win the game.
B. Because he wanted to defeat Magic Johnson.
C. Because he was one of the fans of the Dream Team and it was impossible to defeat them.

5. Read the passage and choose the correct answers.

It is known to us all that doing exercises can bring us a lot of benefits( 益处 ), so many people choose to play sports. They use them to lose weight, to maintain a good figure, to live a healthy and happy life and so on. As for me, I like many sports, among them, running is one of my favourites. Running is widely considered to be one of the most efficient ways to lose weight and stay healthy, but it is not so good if you run on an empty stomach. Second, it is a good way to help calm people down when they are not themselves. So when you get stuck with your work, just run, and you are sure to feel better after it.

I am fond of swimming, too. First of all, it is a good way to stay alive when a flood is coming, and that's why there are so many schools having swimming lessons in P.E. class. Besides, it is a whole-body movement, which can enable almost all the muscles( 肌肉 ) of people's bodies to get enough training.

Above all, no matter what you like doing best, regular exercise is necessary for everybody, and we had better keep in the habit of doing sports regularly.

- a. What benefits can the sports NOT bring us?
 A. To lose weight and keep a good figure.                                      B. To live a healthy and happy life.
 C. To improve our study.
- b. Which statement is wrong according to the passage?
 A. It's good to run on an empty stomach.                                      B. Running can help you feel calm.
 C. Running is a good way to stay health.
- c. Why do many schools have swimming lessons?
 A. Because it's a whole-body movement.
 B. Because it can help muscles to get enough training.
 C. Because it is a good way to stay alive when a flood is coming.
- d. What should you do when you are worried about an upcoming exam?
 A. Watch TV.                                      B. Take up running.                                      C. Go swimming.

5. Read the passage and choose the correct answers.

A healthy body is necessary for a healthy mind. Only by keeping ourselves healthy and strong can we feel energetic(精力充沛) for studying, working and live a happy life.

To keep ourselves fit, physical exercise is the best way. In taking part in out-door sports, we are closer to nature and can take in fresh air. The beauty of nature will keep us clear-headed. Besides, sports stimulate the circulation of blood and help to cleanse the body of toxins(毒素). Sports can also work up our appetite(胃口) and activate our digestion. As a result, we can become strong-bodied.

I always take an active part in physical exercise and enjoy good health. I seldom get sick but I feel full of energy even if I work a whole day long. I shall keep up doing physical exercise so as to live longer and do more for the country.

A healthy body is the foundation of a healthy mind. As we all know, physical health is of great importance towards a sound mind. Without it, the health of our minds is just like castles in the sand. Only with a healthy and strong body can we live an energetic life.
